

WHEN Brady was first proposed as the dupe of Mowry and Oury for the Delegateship, he laughed at the idea and told the story of the dog who, crossing a bridge, dropped the bone he had in his mouth for one he saw in the water.

Don Pedro said the same would probably apply to him, were he to give up the sheriff's office and seek that of Delegate, but after all he yielded to the temptation and lost both.

The truth of the story will now come home to him with increased force, an unpleasant realization—a most disagreeable experience.

POOR CUSENBURY.—So far as heard from, Jim Cusenbury has not received a single vote for Delegate. His silly and impudent address to the voters, and his more silly and illiterate letters seem to have done him no good. We have a specimen of the latter which we think we must print in our next. It is a literary curiosity.

BADLY SOLD.—Clint. Thompson probably feels about as bad over the result of the election as any man in the Territory. Without cause, he turned on his best friends, threw away his money in foolish acts, made ridiculous assertions that he could not prove and lost caste everywhere. He is not a politician, and the sooner he realizes the fact the better for him.

WHERE IS IT?—Poor Dooner said by opposing McCormick he would have a future. What is it to be? Certainly not in Arizona, for here he is as thoroughly used up and useless as a last year's bird nest.

NO WONDER.—The excellent Van Alstyne has been heard to say it is no wonder a party led by the Oury and Duffield has been beaten. What has he to say of that party's putting forward Dooner, chiefly notorious as unsuccessful blackmail, as one of its orators and a presiding officer at one of its meetings?

THANKSGIVING.—We, to-day, publish President Grant's Proclamation on this subject. Governor Safford should at once supplement it with another. No people have greater cause for intense gratitude than those of Arizona. On Tuesday last they rid themselves of the threatened rule of as bad a body of men as ever aspired to position.

The incursions of the Apaches are frequent and terrible, but the advent to power of the crew of Tucson bogus Democracy, who fought the People's ticket with such desperate zeal, would have been a greater because constant, continuous calamity.

The people of Arizona have a right to rejoice and be exceedingly glad, and should judiciously render thanks to the Power that rules us all.

HON. COLUMBUS DELANO, late Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has entered upon his duties as Secretary of the Interior since Gen. Cox resigned.

GEN. SCHANCK has been beaten for M. C. from Ohio by only thirty votes. Louis D. Campbell is the successful man.

NEWS.—We trust our friends in the several towns and settlements throughout the Territory will not be backward in sending us items of news, such as current improvements, arrivals of immigrants, births, marriages, deaths, unusual changes in the weather, public meetings, Indian depredations (when they occur), etc. They will help make our paper interesting and advertise each locality far and wide, for the circulation of the CITIZEN is not by any means, even now, confined within the borders of Arizona, and is constantly increasing. Letters received heretofore which did not appear were not rejected for want of merit, but for causes then explained which happily do not now exist.

THE ELECTION!

McCormick Wins!

THE RETURNS!!

In Tucson, the total vote cast at the election on Tuesday last was 384—of which McCormick received 203 and Brady 140 votes, giving McCormick a majority of 104.

At Florence and Adamsville, total vote 82, of which Brady has a majority of 34.

At Grant, total vote 53, all for McCormick.

So far as heard from, McCormick has a majority of 200 in the county, which is quite as good as expected in view of the small vote cast, the total in the county being about 700.

Camp Goodwin not heard from.

Yavapai county will not be far from it, and the Colorado will give McCormick 250 majority.

Ott, the People's candidate for sheriff of this county, and all the People's nominees, are successful by 200 majority.

In view of the desperate efforts made by the opposition, their falsehoods, slanders and tricks, these results are highly gratifying and furnish cause for general rejoicing. They prove that the People are still firm for the right, and are not to be hoodwinked or misled by any faction, and that treachery, deceit and personal abuse are not accepted as convincing argument.

A Public Blessing.

The election of H. Ott Sheriff of Pima county is a positive public blessing intensified by contrast. It is a credit to the sound sense of the people, and will be greatly to their profit. We have rarely met a man who combines more good qualities as an officer and gentleman. Campaigns like the one just closed, try the mettle and trustworthiness of men, and Mr. Ott has come out of the contest victorious in all respects. His popularity and fitness have been unmistakably evinced by the votes of the people. While we heartily congratulate Mr. Ott on his success, we no less sincerely congratulate the People of Pima county on securing his services as Sheriff.

The Reason Why

We hear that Oury & Co. wonder why the civil and even the military officers felt such an interest in the recent contest and were so united in the wish for McCormick's re-election.

Reference to the infamous address put forth by Dooner, Bennett and others of the so-called Democratic county committee, may furnish them some light upon the matter. In our next, we shall review this document and ventilate its statements as we intended to have done heretofore. It is said to be from the pen of Sylvester Mowry but whoever may have been its author, its atrocious assertions are such as to warrant its condemnation by every true friend of Arizona.

Illegal Voting.

As we presumed would be the case, the men who were so loud in their Pharisaical howling against illegal voting, were the only ones who endeavored to secure fraudulent votes on Tuesday last. In more than one instance they were caught in the very act of voting Indians, soldiers and Sonorians, and they probably succeeded in palming off some such upon the judges as legal voters. For a party professing a most earnest desire for a pure election, they resorted to unusually low tricks, at which we are not surprised. We knew from the start that the cry of fraud was simply intended as a shield for their own well concocted villainies.

PERSONAL.

Tell the bell,
A crowd of damned (?) souls
Float down the Stygian river.
(Politically.)

P. R. Brady heads the floating mass. He knows what is right, and has generally done right, but in the canvass just closed he proved himself too weak to always do right. By listening to and acting upon the advice of pretended instead of real friends, he has brought political if not financial ruin upon himself, and has few sympathizers.

That prince of dead beats, and slanders, and carpet baggers, Sylvester Mowry, is more likely to bring up in the club rooms of Pacific street, San Francisco, than the Pacific Club of that city. Miserable and despised Sylvester.

If Granville H. Oury has not yet discovered the place the people of Pima county desire him to occupy, he has, at least, ascertained the one they will not permit him to occupy.

P. W. Dooner has probably a glimpse of that "future" which he said awaited him if he played the treacherous part he has, instead of continuing as a worthless if not a damaging simpleton. It may assuage his grief some to be assured that we cared nothing for his idiotically vicious abuse, and are now enjoying healthy laughs at his calamity. Viewed merely as a rare compound of fool and knave, he is admirable.

The notorious M. B. Duffield will probably emigrate, or remain here within legal bounds and bonds.

The Spanish-French eavesdropper and servile toady and tale bearer, whom the people have condemned as unfit and unworthy to be Recorder, will have time for meditation and find room for improvement.

McClatchy and other siffurers financially may have gained an insight into that lesson which experience teaches, if they have lost their currency. They are referred to what the Scripture and Ben Franklin say, for consolation.

We have sympathy for those who for some weeks have been apologizing for the company they were in, and trust the lesson they have just been taught will be of value to them hereafter, and that they may live to realize its fruits an hundred fold.

EXIT DOONER.

Except to occasionally warn the printing and journalistic fraternity to not in any way become associated with that waste of clay headed Dooner, we shall let it revel in the fruits of its villainies in as much quietness as a guilty conscience will permit it. He has made ridiculous and profitless attempt to play tag, and when the curtain dropped on Tuesday, it hid from a large audience one who could represent a few of the republic and none of the talented personalities of tag, and we might all of Pecksniff, Dogberry, and Scraggins Pickle.

A gossip report that after his month had been shot off on Monday night, he was seen crouching off on a frigid rock, in an out of the way place, exclaiming in the language of Job, viz: Behold I am vile; I will lay my hand upon my mouth. Once I have spoken; but I will not answer; yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.

At the close of this soliloquy, he moved off and—His troubled bosom heaved unbidden sighs; And tears unforced fell copious from his eyes.

EXIT DOONER.

THE Rev. Charles H. Cook, of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Chicago, has been in Santa Fe. He was awaiting an opportunity to proceed to Arizona.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Although we have not the complete returns of the several counties, yet enough is known to assure us of the triumphant re-election of Hon. R. C. McCormick to Congress, and therefore we congratulate the People of Arizona on their choice. It accords with common sense, practical business acumen and the claim for good service rendered, and assures the People that for over two years to come, Arizona will be represented at Washington by a man of trial, true and successful ability; by one a peer of any and above a majority of Territorial Delegates. It is putting it low to say that this action of the People of Arizona will be worth millions of dollars to them, besides a large influx of needed population, thus lessening the danger from Indians, and making available our vast wealth for the wants of the world.

We not only congratulate our fellow citizens for these reasons, but for others hardly less valuable: That of consigning to political death and beyond resurrection a few bad men who have done their best to subordinate the interests of the People to the gratification of partisan feeling and for designedly selfish purposes.

It is rare that we exult over a foe so badly beaten, but in a long experience in politics, we never encountered such a thoroughly bad opposition. It has had for its leaders murderers, those banished from other Territories by popular and just fury, itinerant vagabonds and bums who in well regulated communities would have been arrested as vicious vagrants, unparallelled liars, &c., &c. They have hesitated at circulating nothing that depraved minds could conceive, which they imagined would misrepresent and damage their opponents, and mislead the people. The better the man, the more falsely and malignantly they assailed him. They boasted of theft which they did not commit, but which they believed they had. They started out by threats of killing and violent crushing of one and another kind. They wholly avoided manly or even ordinary opposition. What they did not do or say to carry their points, they failed to think of.

For all these and other reasons, we with joy and gladness, congratulate the people of Arizona at large and as well those of Pima county upon their decision on Tuesday last. It is hard to realize the human use value of the victory of that day, and what calamities have been averted thereby.

Again we congratulate the People without distinction of party upon their work of November 8, 1870.

"A Great Liar and Blowhard."

To show who has written himself down as above, and to vindicate our correct course, we give place to the subjoined from the Arizona Miner of Nov. 5:

"The editor of the Tucson CITIZEN is a fine writing himself down as a great liar and blowhard," when fact proves us considerably, as we have heretofore considered him incapable of getting down on his knees and filling the position of affidavit man to a set of thieving politicians. His paper of the 22d ult. is one tissue of falsehoods. To believe these falsehoods, a stranger would imagine that every yard in Arizona was wrapped up in McCormick, and that his election is a foregone conclusion. We know better, and to show that we have confidence in our knowledge, we will stake the Miner office against its value in money or property that Brady will be our next Delegate to Congress."

It would be well for the substantial citizens of Arizona, if somebody accepted the stakes offered by Marion of the Miner.

Now, Marion, who is proven "a great liar and blowhard," you or we? The People have decided that "thou art the man."

INDIANS.—We have a rumor from Pima Villages that Col. Sanford killed three Apaches and had three of his own men wounded in a fight a few days since. Also, that the Pimas have succeeded in killing some Apaches in the Pinal mountains.

MEXICAN VOTERS OF TUCSON.

The election on Tuesday shows that our fellow citizens of Mexican birth were mainly true to their interests, their reliable friends, and the general welfare. McCormick is on the record as their staunch friend while Governor and Congressman, and will continue to be under all circumstances. It is with true satisfaction that we pay this compliment to their wisdom as voters. An effort was made to mislead them by a series of the most atrocious falsehoods, designed to bring defensible industry and honesty of Mexico, Ochoa, Canilla, Aina and other well informed men on public affairs they were either satisfactorily explained, truly denied, or disbelieved.

We take this occasion to assure our Mexican fellow citizens that the confidence they have again shown to possess in Hon. R. C. McCormick will never be abused nor unappreciated.

All those who voted for him will never have cause to regret it.

THE Santa Fe Daily Post, of October 25, says "the ARIZONA CITIZEN is the title of a new Tucson exchange, whose first number we have just received. It gives evidence of editorial ability and energy, and we trust will meet with success."

Reward for Scalps.

The following, translated from the Utes, (State of Sonora) paper of Sept. 30, 1870, will probably interest our readers:

"For some time past, the state of Sonora has been paying for each Apache scalp $200. An appropriation of $10,000 per month having been made by the central government to aid Sonora against the incursions of the Indians, the Governor of that state, Don Ignacio Pesquera, estimating at their full value the difficulties to be encountered and the sacrifices to be made by the volunteers who are about undertaking the campaign against the Apaches, has ordered that from the amount received from the central government for the defense of the frontier, a further sum of $100 for each scalp shall be paid in addition to the $200 above mentioned.

Therefore, from September 30, 1870, for each Apache scalp presented to the proper authorities, there shall be paid $300.

We call the attention of volunteer companies which are being formed, to the above, that they may be induced to pursue the Indians with energy and perseverance."

Of course the whippet and vanquished editor of the Arizona Miner has today viciously endeavored to show that the election has been carried by unfair means. We know of no man having done so, and by his own disingenuousness, to which we have elsewhere referred. We are entirely willing that the people should judge as to the conduct of McCormick and friends. It has been straightforward, manly and honest, while that of their opponents has been notoriously the reverse, and no one knows better than poor, uneducated Dooner.

BASE.—The attempt to show that undue pressure was used to make the miners at the Vulture mine, or any class of men in this Territory, vote for McCormick. At every point he distinctly stated that it was up to one to vote for him under compulsion, and we know the story that money was used to buy votes by the Sonoran company, Rogers, Walling & Co. and the mail contractors is absolutely and maliciously false.

THERE has been some talk of holding an inquest upon the remains of the slaughtered bogus Democracy, but the people seem so well advised of how it came about and satisfied thereof, that the ceremonies of an inquest will be omitted as unnecessary. It is well, for the carcass is very offensive.

MO'RY left San Francisco promising the certain defeat of McCormick. What will his friends (?) think of his success? Will they now realize what a charlatan he is?

MARION, of the Miner, has been more filthy than usual in his present campaign, but as usual he has helped McCormick.

NORTH Florence, the only precinct in Yavapai county yet heard from, gives McCormick a majority of 11 out of 19 votes polled.
